

BIG GREEN BUS TOUR

GROW TOGETHER DEBUT TOUR, 2024

The Big Green Bus Tour: Grow Together is bringing communities together over the power of growing food. In this inaugural trip, we'll amplify the work of change-makers, host engaging food and gardening events, and celebrate accomplishments of communities across the nation who are supporting food justice. Our goal is to inspire healthier, more sustainable communities by spotlighting the transformative impact of "growing food changes lives." This first iteration of the Big Green Bus Tour focuses on gathering communities to foster connection to our larger movement to get everyone in America growing food. This is our way of honoring the communities that are cultivating gardens, fostering food access, and creating vibrant spaces that promote great physical and mental wellbeing. By highlighting these achievements, we hope to inspire healthier, more sustainable communities that continue to change the status quo of our food system.

BIG GREEN

is a nonprofit organization dedicated to getting everyone in America growing food. Big Green fundamentally believes that growing food changes lives. It has the potential to help people take charge of their own wellbeing and that of their communities. Big Green supports leaders and organizations working at the heart of food justice who are transforming their neighborhoods one seed, one garden at a time.
